Executive Summary

- We believe the Full House Board has failed stockholders
- The stock is down 59% in the year ended September 30, 2014
- The Company has significantly underperformed the Russell 2000 index and the Dow Jones U.S. Gambling Index over one, three and five year periods
- The Company has a history of poor operations and has made poor capital allocation decisions that appear to be focused on empire building
- Despite the Company's poor performance, the Board has rewarded management with generous compensation packages
- After we called a Special Meeting, the Company changed its bylaws and initiated a sale process
- We believe the Full House Board is not capable of effectively overseeing management and is in immediate need of truly independent directors
- We believe a Special Meeting of shareholders is urgently needed to improve the Board with independent directors who can protect the interests of all shareholders during the sale process or on a go forward basis

Attempts to Thwart Special Meeting

Recent Bylaw Changes

- We have attempted to engage the Company since February 2014
- October 9, 2014, the Concerned Stockholders filed a 13-D and preliminary solicitation statement to call a Special Meeting
- October 13, 2014, the Company announced it is exploring strategic alternatives and has hired advisors
- October 21, 2014, the Company announced changes to its corporate bylaws giving the Board the power to delay a Special Meeting, notably past the automatic renewal date of employment contracts for the CEO and COO
- Before the changes, the Company was required to schedule the meeting with not less than 10 nor more than 50 days notice
- Recent bylaw change purports to allow the Board to delay a Meeting. We believe that if challenged, this change would be unenforceable under Delaware law

We believe the bylaw change was an attempt to entrench the Board and enrich management

Company Announces Sale

Company Reacts to Concerned Stockholders

- October 22, 2014 the Company announced that it will initiate a sale process
- Any sale would require lengthy review and approval by state gaming authorities
- The Company's credit agreements are approximately 18 months from expiration
- In our view, selling the Company with the credit agreements imminently due could result in a situation where the lenders or buyers have disproportionate leverage over the equity holders in any negotiation
- In the past, the Second Lien holder foreclosed on Casino Miami Jai-Alai, a highly levered casino, even after the casino being sold had found a buyer
- None of the current directors have ever run a process to sell a company
- We question the motives behind the hastily arranged sale process and do not trust the Board or management to maximize shareholder value

Our nominees have extensive transactional experience in the gaming industry

Note: A affiliate of Summit Partners foreclosed upon Florida Gaming: ABC Funding, LLC v. Florida Gaming Centers and Florida Gaming Corp., St. Lucie, Florida Circuit Court Case #: 56-2012-CA-003525

Share Price Performance

Stockholders have lost approximately 59% in the past year

Note: From September 30, 2013 to September 30, 2014. Preliminary consent statement filed on October 9, 2014

Reasons for Change

Poor Operations and Poor Capital Allocation

- The Company's operations have performed poorly and it has lost valuable business
- Each of the Company's three owned casinos has seen revenues decline YTD in 2014
- The Company made three acquisitions and built a hotel that have not created value for stockholders
- The Company proposed an equity offering to dilute stockholders by 90% in January 2014 below book value without announcing the use of proceeds
- Despite three poorly performing acquisitions, the Company pursued another large acquisition of the Fitz Tunica in March 2014
- The acquisition attempt failed and the Company lost over $2 million from its deposit and fees by failing to manage the risks inherent in the deal
- The Company needed to obtain waivers to its First and Second Lien Credit Agreements seven days after announcing the acquisition

Poor Operating Performance Rising Star

Poor Operations at the Rising Star

- Acquired Rising Star in Rising Sun, Indiana in April 2011
- Disclosed price of $43 million did not include deal fees or working capital so cash on cash returns are worse than advertised
- Purchased property that is difficult to access from greater Cincinnati
- At the time of acquisition, Rising Star revenues were down 28% from the 2006 peak of approximately $152 million
- Four new casinos in Ohio were scheduled to open that were expected to increase pressure on Rising Star
- Even after the Company renovated the existing hotel and built 104 room addition, total revenues have dropped another 26.6% YTD in 2014 through September
- Company took a $11.5 million write down in Q2 2014 for the acquisition

Before the Rising Star acquisition, competition was clearly on the horizon

Note: On September 10, 2010 the day the Rising Star acquisition was announced, the Cincinnati Enquirer wrote an article highlighting the competition being built in the Cincinnati market

Poor Operating Performance

Rising Star

Rising Star Total Monthly Gaming Revenues Since Acquisition

Rising Star Quarterly EBITDA

Even with a new hotel, total gaming revenues have declined 26.6% YTD in 2014

Note: Rising Star was acquired April 1, 2011. For the three months ended September 30, 2014, the Company realized a tax savings of $1.2 million, due to the lower tax structure in Indiana.

History of Losing Management Contracts

History of Losing Management Contracts

- Historically, Full House managed casinos for third parties
- The Nambé Pueblo Indian Tribe in New Mexico severed business ties with the company in 2008
- The Company pursued opening a casino with the Northern Cheyenne Tribe in Montana, which resulted in $0.7mm write off in 2010
- Lost contract to manage the Harrington casino in Delaware in 2011
- Lost contract to manage the Buffalo Thunder casino in New Mexico in September 2014

We believe management failed to generate value with the previous strategy of managing casinos, and have failed to build value with the new strategy too

History of Poor Capital Allocation

Poor Capital Allocation - Rising Star Hotel

The Company invested approximately $8 million in an off-balance sheet transaction to open a new, 142-guest room hotel tower in November 2013 that is across the parking lot from the casino entrance

Use of the new hotel has been low...

Only 35% Utilization at New Hotel Tower

... while nearest competitors, without new hotels, are down about the same

2014 YTD Change in Gross Gaming Revenues

History is Repeating at Silver Slipper

Poor Capital Allocation

- Silver Slipper purchased for $69.3mm, plus deal fees of $1.6mm, working capital of $2.9mm, and loan origination fees of $5.8mm*
- Analysts reported the purchase price was 6.0 – 6.25x trailing EBITDA. In our view, the real multiple was closer to 8.2x forward EBITDA.
- Average industry acquisition multiple was 6.9x forward EBITDA in 2012
- Purchased another property that is difficult to access via road from Interstate
- Silver Slipper has underperformed the Mississippi Gulf Coast market since the company completed the acquisition; revenues down 8.5% YTD in 2014
- Competition (DHCC) has received Mississippi Gaming Commission approval for a new $185mm casino and hotel at Diamondhead less than 16 miles away
- Jacobs Entertainment is seeking to build a second casino in Diamondhead
- Company is building a new hotel, construction delayed, counterparty risk
- Hotel opening date has slipped from Q4 2014 to Q1 2015

Notes: *The Company also wrote off $1.7mm in debt issuance costs on prior debt and incurred severance charges. Stern Agee Report April 2012.
 Wells Fargo Securities estimates the average forward EBITDA multiple was 6.9x in 2012

Counterparty Risk at Silver Slipper

Silver Slipper $18 million hotel project

- Initial fixed price contract called for September 2014 completion, construction has been delayed at least once
- WHD Silver Slipper, LLC., a SPV of Wright Hotel Development, Inc. has been retained for $13.9 million of the project
- The performance guarantee of WHD Silver Slipper, LLC. is provided by an affiliate named Sure Bet, LLC and is capped at $500k
- Sure Bet, LLC provided a guaranty secured by a second position trust deed on a commercial building located in Newport, Oregon with a tattoo parlor for a tenant

Wright Hotel Development, Inc. Corporate HQ

Tattoo Parlor, Newport, Oregon

Board Sanctioned Dilution

Poor Capital Allocation

- 12/31/2013, FLL had 18.8mm shares outstanding
- 1/8/2014, the company filed an S-1 to sell up to $46mm worth of stock with no specific explanation for use of funds. That day FLL closed at $2.65
- The proposed offering at $2.65 would have diluted shareholders by approximately 17.3mm shares or more than 90%
- 3/24/2014, FLL announced an acquisition of Fitz Tunica
- 5/29/2014, FLL closed at $1.41, the company cancelled the offering
- 8/27/2014, FLL announced it had lost $1.7mm of its deposit and $300k in fees
- 9/30/2014, FLL closed at $1.15

In our view, management pursued a poorly thought out empire building strategy and shareholders lost more than 50% of their investment

Acquisitions Lead to Massive Write-Offs

Poor Capital Allocation

- We believe the Company overpays for acquisitions
- Actual numbers for acquisitions are worse as Rising Star and Silver Slipper announced purchase prices did not include working capital or deal fees
- The Company has acquired three casinos and taken $20 million in write-offs including:
 - $4.5 million in Q3 2011 at Stockman's Casino
 - $4.0 million in Q3 2013 at Stockman's Casino
 - $11.5 million in Q2 2014 at Rising Star Casino
- The $20 million in write-offs total more than $1.05 per share versus a share price on September 30, 2014 of $1.15

The Company's acquisition strategy has destroyed value

Acquisitions Have Destroyed Value

Poor Capital Allocation

- Company bought Stockman's for $27.1 million in 2007, sold the adjacent hotel for $6.1 million for a net investment of $21 million
- In December 2011, the Company's core assets were approximately $13.2 million in cash, the Stockman's Casino, and the FireKeepers joint venture
- In 2012, the Company divested its portion of the FireKeepers JV for $49.6 million and paid $21.8 million in tax
- Pro-forma, without the Rising Star and Silver Slipper acquisitions, the Company would have owned Stockman's and had approximately $40 million in cash or $2.12. The Company traded as of September 30, 2014 at $1.15

Property	Purchase Price*	Shares	18.9 million
Stockman's	$27 million	Price	$1.15
Rising Star	$43 million	Market Cap	$22 million
Silver Slipper	$70 million	Net Debt	$44 million
Total	$140 million	Enterprise Value	$66 million

The Company purchased three casinos for a total of $140 million and the current enterprise value is less than 50% of what the Company paid

Note: Purchase price excludes working capital, dispositions, hotel renovations and additions, and financing fees which would increase the purchase price at least $30 million

Governance

- Management representatives comprise 40% of the current five person Board
- Chairman is not independent
- Every “Independent” has a past working relationship with the CEO
- The Concerned Stockholders have repeatedly attempted to engage constructively with management and the Board with no success
- The Company does not have a majority vote standard
- After the Concerned Stockholders filed their preliminary Solicitation Statement, the Board amended the bylaws on October 21, 2014, which reduced shareholder rights and gave the Board the power to delay any Special Meeting

Independent Board Historical Overlap

The current Board has been associated for a long time and overseen the entire loss of shareholder value

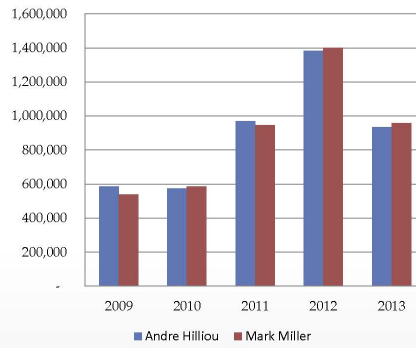

Questionable Compensation Practices

Governance

- Despite consistent underperformance, executive compensation of the CEO and COO is up 68% in the past five years
- Compensation is not visibly tied to organic growth, return on capital, or shareholder returns
- Compensation is set on a study conducted in 2010 and a bonus plan written in 2006
- Company does not reveal comparable companies used to set compensation
- Employment contracts automatically renew every two years

Compensation

Management Compensation

Independent Board Not Aligned

Governance

- Independents have a combined 23 years of service on the Board
- Independents receive approximately $50,000 in cash and stock each year
- Independents own only 58,900 shares in the aggregate – collectively less than $70,000 worth of stock after 23 years of combined service

Director	Joined Board	Years at FLL	Shares Owned	Stock Price at Start*	Performance*
Kenneth Adams	Jan. 2007	7	24,900	$3.91	Down 71%
Dr. Carl Braunlich	May 2005	9	18,000	$1.60	Down 28%
Kathleen Marshall	Jan. 2007	7	16,000	$3.91	Down 71%
Totals		23	58,900

Our nominees can help the incumbents with the sale process

Note: Closing price as of last trading day of the month in which director began Board service through September 30, 2014

Special Meeting is Urgent

Immediate Action is Needed

- The Company violated its financial covenants in its First and Second Lien Credit Agreements in the first two quarters of 2014
- To obtain waivers, the Company paid fees and agreed to pay the Second Lien holder an increased interest rate of 14.25%
- The Company's credit facilities expire in approximately 18 months
- Despite their track record, management has proposed four new projects (two in New York, two in Kentucky)
- Management has now initiated a rushed sale process and is being advised by Macquarie Capital, which is the same group that advised them on prior acquisitions, proposed dilution, and arranged the high cost debt
- In our view, announcing a sale, with the credit agreements imminently due, could result in a dangerous situation where the lenders can decide the Company's fate
- None of the independent directors has experience selling companies or casinos

Plans for Special Meeting

The Special Meeting

- Per the bylaws, 40% of Stockholders must request the Special Meeting
- We plan to present a proposal to stockholders that will increase the size of the Board from five to ten directors
- We intend to nominate five highly qualified independent directors who possess the experience, qualities, and skills that are needed on the Company's Board
- Our nominees have substantial experience in gaming, financial services, retail, law, and corporate governance

Concerned Stockholders will present a detailed turnaround plan prior to the Special Meeting

- After the Company announced its sale process and changed the bylaws, the trust wrote a second open letter dated October 28, 2014

"As stockholders of the Company, we are troubled by the lack of transparency provided with respect to the Company's evaluation of strategic alternatives. We would like to better understand, among other things, the Board's process for selecting an investment bank, and what factors were considered by the Board in its determination that a sale process was in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders."

After marketing with the Company, on October 9, 2014, one analyst wrote
"We are not completely surprised for investors to be taking more of an activist role"

Appendix: Andre Hilliou

Management

- President, CEO and Chairman of the Board of Directors of American Bingo & Gaming, Inc. (later known as Littlefield Corporation, LTFD) (1998-99)
- Littlefield suffered chaotic leadership during Hilliou's term as President, CEO & Chairman (Form 10-KSB FYE December 31, 2000)
- In the opinion of the successor team, the team headed by Hilliou had created a structure which was excessive and ineffective
- Too much power was concentrated in the hands of a single individual without the creation of checks and balances
- From an American Bingo & Gaming Corp, 1999 10-K:
"Mr. Hilliou was unable to forge and execute a strategic vision for the Company and was further unable to inspire the Board of Directors to work effectively together. After almost a year of internecine warfare, six members of the Board of Directors and the Management team resigned in mid-1999 shortly after the Company's Annual Meeting."
